Rock and Roll, Weavers To Highlight 1961 Junior Weekend Activities

Varied Parties On Schedule For Weekend

Following is a list of all the fraternity parties to take place over junior weekend.

Alpha Sigma Psi and Alpha Tau Omega are holding joint parties over the weekend, with a keg and records starting things off on Friday night after the Rock 'n Roll dance until 1:30. On Saturday afternoon they move out to Bittersweet Falls where the Jazz Doctors will play, and following the Weavers' concert, the El Moroccos will hold forth in the Slug barn until 2 p. m.

Chi Psi will start the weekend on Friday evening with a cocktail party with a record dance after the Rock 'n Roll dance. On Saturday evening there will be a buffet with a Rock 'n Roll dance after the concert.

Delta Kappa Epsilon will have a record party from 11 to 1:30 a.m. Friday. On Saturday afternoon there will be a late party with a keg. After the Weaver's concert, the Northern Lights Rock 'n Roll band will perform until closing time.

Delta Upsilon will be going up to Ripton on both Friday and Saturday afternoons with a buffet sup-

Departments Announce New '61 Courses

The faculty has approved changes in the course offerings of the political science and psychology departments for the coming year.

Walter Bogart, chairman of the political science department, has announced the following changes in his department.

The International Politics course (P.S. 20.1, 20.2) will be given next year under a slightly different title, International Politics: Practice. The department has submitted a new course description for the catalogue:

A study of the relations among states, to include both "major" and "lesser" powers; the process by which policy is made; the factors that tend to shape policy.

The international political process; interaction among states; basic factors in world politics; regional and international political and functional organization.

Not To Be Offered

The Comparative Government course (P.S. 22.1, 22.2) will not be given in 1961-62, but will be given in 1962-63.

Government and Politics of the Far East and Southeast Asia will not be given in 1961-62 but will be given in 1962-63.

Political Science 42.1 and 42.2 also indicated in the current catalogue as International Politics will be given in 1961-62 as International Politics: Theory and with a new course description.

A close study of a number of theories of international politics to determine the kinds,

THE WEAVERS: This internationally known singing group will appear Saturday night of Junior Weekend in the Field House. Here cartoonist Hal March '62 gives his impression of the group. Tickets are on sale in Proctor Hall and will be available at the door. The concert begins at 8 o'clock. Victor Micati '62, Junior Weekend co-chairman recommends that people get to the Field House early to avoid the last minute rush for tickets.

Junior Fellows

Twenty - three Junior Men Will Live In Frosh Dorms

Twenty-three Junior Fellows have been selected to reside in freshman dormitories next year, Thomas Reynolds, dean of men, announced this week.

The men, all class of '63 are Peter Benson, John Bower, Douglas Crandall, Albert Dowden, Victor Ettinger, William Fisher, Richard Floyd, John Flynn, David Hanscom, Edward Hixson, David Howell, Arthur Huey.

Also, Thomas Mettee, Charles MacCormack Louis McGraw Wallace Pringle, Roger Ralph, Alfred Shepherd, Craig Stewart, Sabin Streeter, Ronald Whitehill, Alan Wood, and Robert Wright.

Two Junior Fellows will reside on each floor of a freshman dormitory. Each junior will supervise seven or eight freshmen on his floor and will serve as student advisor in conjunction with the faculty advisor for the freshmen.

The juniors were chosen on the basis of academic standing and general leadership. A committee composed of Reynolds, Ronald Potier, assistant dean, Frederic Swift, chairman of the faculty committee on freshman counselling, and Harold Fergus, Gilbert Owren and Ahren Cohen, officers of the Men's Undergraduate Association, made the selections.

Skyline Chooses 1961 Leaders

In elections last week Skyline chose William Dalsimer '62 as president of Mountain Club for the coming year. Also chosen were Elizabeth Barkentin '62 as secretary and Christopher White '63 as treasurer.

Carnival Co-Chairmen for next year were also elected. The new co-chairmen will be Peter Shumway and Elizabeth Dunphy, both '62.

Shumway, a member of Alpha Sigma Psi, was co-chairman of the Winter Sports committee for Carnival this year.

Miss Dunphy, a member of Pi Beta Phi, served as publicity chairman for Mountain Club and Carnival this year. She will be the Secretary of the Panhellenic Council next year.

SCEC Schedules Meeting Tonight

The Student Chapel Evaluation Committee, headed by James Shattuck '62, has announced an open meeting to be held this evening at 7 p. m. in Room 222 of Redfield Proctor Hall. This meeting is open to all students who wish to discuss the chapel controversy.

Earlier this week, the committee distributed questionnaires to all students. The questionnaires allow each student to express his opinion concerning required chapel.

After considering the ideas expressed in the questionnaires and in the open discussion, the committee hopes to arrive at a definite proposal for the administration, possibly by next week.

Shattuck urges students to attend the open meeting.

Committee Views Changes In UA

A committee appointed by Paul Frinsko '61, outgoing president of the Undergraduate Association, met last Sunday night to work out proposed changes in the new Student Association Constitution which was printed in the March 30 issue of The CAMPUS.

Persons attending were Frinsko, Harold Fergus, president of the Men's Undergraduate Association, and Daniel Armet, MUA treasurer, both '62; Susan Sheridan '61, outgoing president of the Women's Undergraduate Association, Barbara Miller, secretary of the UA, Anne Thornton, president of the WUA, and Jacqueline Ross, all '62.

The proposed changes would in effect consolidate the present UA constitution. Under the new plan there will be one student governing body, the Student Association, or the SA, which will take the place of the present UA. The membership in the SA will be reduced to a workable number, with complete representation from the entire student body. The SA will constitute a centralized channel for student opinions.

When matters pertaining solely to either the women's or men's side of the campus arise, the men of the SA will meet with the president; the women with the vice-president.

Membership of the SA for the men will consist of a representative from each of the fraternities, Atwater Club, the independents and the freshmen. The women's representatives will come from the dormitories.

Big Weekend Is Planned By Committee

Music Wins Spotlight; Quartets To Perform

By CHARLES BUELL

The Junior Weekend Committee under the leadership of Victor Micati and Constance Morgan Watkins, both '62, has planned a big weekend highlighted by Little Anthony and the Imperials with Red Prysock's Rock 'n Roll band on Friday night, and the renowned folk singing group the Weavers on Saturday night.

Other events on the agenda besides the faternity parties area lacrosse game, track meet and a bridge tournament.

At the Field House tomorrow night at 8 p. m., the rock 'n roll vocal group of Little Anthony and the Imperials will entertain those present while Red Prysock's rock 'n roll band will provide the dancing music, all lasting until around 11 p. m. During the intermission the Junior Weekend Queen will be crowned.

Lacrosse Game

On Saturday afternoon, the lacrosse team will have a game with WPI and the track team will play host to Williams, both of these events getting underway at 2 p.m. Also on Saturday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly are sponsoring a duplicate bridge tournament, open to any pairs, in the Proctor Hall Lounge, starting at 1:30 p. m.

The Memorial Field House will be the location for the Weavers concert on Saturday night at 8 p. m. The Weavers are a nationally known folk singing group whose records are very much in evidence on campus. Erik Darling, Lee Hayes, Fred Hellerman and Ronnie Gilbert, the members of the Weavers, have sung together for a long time and are also well-known individually.

Student One Acts Second In Series Open Tonight at 8

A second series of one-act plays begins this evening at 8 p. m. in Wright Memorial Theater. The three plays by Saroyan, Chekov and Lady Gregory are all student directed and cast.

"Hello Out There," the Saroyan play, directed by Jane MacFarlane '62 tells the story of a man accused of a rape he never committed. Duncan Kendall '64 plays the young man who is imprisoned in a small-town Texas jail. Cynthia Chase '64 plays the simple ingenue he meets. Other members of the cast are Joseph Alberghini '61, Phyllis Cole '62, Randall McNamara '64 and Daniel Reynolds '64. The set will be expressionistic in style.

Beverly Hensel '62 directs "The Boor," by Anton Chekov. The comedy revolves about a Russian widow, Mrs. Popov played by Martha Kilgore '61, who makes a great show of mourning for her deceas-

A Job Well Done

The selection of a new group of Junior Fellows initiates the third year of a program which, like the similar Junior Counsellor system on the women's campus, has been extremely successful.

In May of 1959, when the plan had its beginning, Dean Thomas Reynolds viewed a freshman counselling program as being of "such vital importance that the program of Junior Fellows may prove to be an opportunity for a really significant advance in the academic level at Middlebury."

The Junior Fellow system has proved to be just such an opportunity. Although the lower fresman flunkout rate is probably in part a result of other factors, the presence of Junior Fellows in the freshman dormitories cannot be overlooked as a strong academic influence on fresmen.

The program is a vast improvement over the former system of faculty advisors and dormitory proctors. The Junior Fellow program is both better organized and better geared to reach the freshmen on a personal level. The Junor Fellows, by virtue of being students living in the dormitories, are often able to perceive and correct problems long before they arise.

But the program is not only of value to the freshmen; it also is important to the juniors themselves. It gives recognition to those men who have displayed superior academic achievement and leadership ability. The program allows them the chance to work with other people. It is like taking a sixth course in human relations.

The actual selection of Junior Fellow has been an important factor in the program's tremendous success. The Men's Undergraduate Association and the selection committee have done an outstanding job in choosing a high caliber of men.

This year's Junior Fellows are to be congratulated for a job well done. It is our hope and expectation that the new group will maintain the high standards which have marked the program's growth during the past two years.

John Birch Society

The name of John Birch, an American who was killed in China by Communists in 1945, has recently come into prominence in connection with the ultra-conservative, anti-Communist John Birch Society.

This society, with its slanderous and absurd statements (such as that President Eisenhower was a "conscious agent of the Communist conspiracy"), is in actuality an attempt to substitute a new McCarthyism for democracy. It would label as Communist all those to the left of Senator Goldwater.

Yet, the society's very existence is in itself a tribute to the American belief in the freedom of the individual to think and act as he pleases. In a democracy it is mportant that all views can be expressed, for as Thomas Jefferson once said, "Error of opinion may be tolerated where wisdom is left free to combat it."

The most effective way to fight an organization such as the John Birch Society is a well-informed public. A travesty of democracy would be committed only if the American people adopted the views of the John Birch Society.

Student Assoc. Constitution; Three-Headed Monster Gone

The CAMPUS presents the entire text of the latest proposal for a Student Association Constitution, as announced by the Undergraduate Association at that organization's meeting last night.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTION
OF
THE MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE
STUDENT ASSOCIATION

PREAMBLE

We, representatives of the students of Middlebury College, with the sanction of the Administration and Trustees of the College, hereby establish under this constitution a representative government in order to insure efficient and effective achievement of the responsibilities of student government.

ARTICLE I — PURPOSE

The purpose of this organization shall be to provide a directing force for coordination and cooperation among such student government groups as may be chartered by Middlebury College Student Association through its Cabinet; and to foster a spirit of unity and cooperation among the students, faculty and the Administration of the College by providing a central channel through which considered student opinion on student affairs shall be recognized.

ARTICLE II — NAME

The name of this organization shall be the Middlebury College Student Association.

ARTICLE III — MEMBERSHIP

All students registered as undergraduates of Middlebury College shall be members of the Student Association and shall contribute to its support.

ARTICLE IV — THE CABINET

The Cabinet shall be the supreme executive and legislative body of the Student Association.

Section I — Membership

A. The male members of the Cabinet shall be:

1. One member from each fraternity, Atwater Club and a representative of the independent men.

a. To initiate proceedings for the session of 1961-1962 representatives from Sigma Phi Epsilon, Alpha Sigma Psi, Kappa Delta Rho, Zeta Psi, Chi Psi, and the Independent Men will be from the class of '62. The representatives from Atwater, Alpha Tau Omega Delta Kappa Epsilon Delta Upsilon, Phi Kappa Tau, and Theta Chi will be from the class of '63.

B. The female members of the Cabinet shall be:

1. One representative each from Pearsons, Forest East, Forest West, Chateau, and one from the combined small houses.

2. Two representatives, one a freshman and one an upperclassman, from each of the Battells.

Section II — Powers and Duties of the Cabinet.

A. The Cabinet is empowered by the Board of Trustees and Undergraduates of Middlebury College:

1. To constitute the official channel of communication between the undergraduates and the Adminstration and Faculty on matters of concern to the undergraduates.

2. To pass legislation pertaining to all purely student affairs which shall be binding on all students.

3. To assume responsibilities delegated by the Trustees, the President, the officers of the Administration and the Faculty, and accepted by the Student Association.

4. To form such committees as are necessary for the execution of its powers and duties.

Section III — Officers of the Cabinet.

A. The officers of the Cabinet shall be the president, the vice president, secretary and treasurer.

B. The President — Election, qualifications, powers and duties.

1. The President shall be nominated by the Cabinet and elected by the men's student body of Middlebury College.

2. Any male member of the Cabinet in his sixth semester in good standing shall be eligible for this office.

3. Powers and duties

a. Shall call together and preside over all meetings of the Cabinet.

b. Shall be chairman of the men's committee.

c. Shall be a member of the Student Life Committee.

d. Shall be an ex-officio member of all Cabinet committees and councils.

C. The Vice President

1. The vice-president shall be nominated by the Cabinet and elected by the women's student body of Middlebury College.

2. Shall be any woman member of the Cabinet in the sixth semester in good standing.

3. Powers and duties

a. Shall assume the powers of the president in his absence or demise.

b. Shall be chairman of the woman's committee.

c. Shall perform such duties as the Cabinet may prescribe.

D. The Secretary

1. The Secretary shall be appointed by the President from the Cabinet with the approval of the Cabinet.

2. Powers and duties

a. Shall be responsible for all minutes and correspondence of the Cabinet.

b. Shall perform such duties as the cabinet may prescribe.

E. The Treasurer

1. The treasurer shall be appointed by the President from the Cabinet with the approval of the Cabinet.

2. Powers and duties

a. Shall handle the finances of the Student Association.

b. Shall keep a duplicate record of all student finances.

c. Shall make a financial report at each meeting of the Cabinet.

d. Shall submit, in conjunction with the treasurer of undergraduate activities an audit of all student finances at the final meeting of the Cabinet each semester.

e. Shall perform such other duties as the Cabinet may prescribe.

Section IV — Procedure

A. The procedure of the Cabinet shall be conducted according to "Robert's Rules of Order."

MEN'S AND WOMEN'S COMMITTEES

The legislative power of all student organizations shall be subsidiary to that of the Cabinet and any legislation initiated by any of these groups, excepting procedural votes, shall be subject to review and approval by the Cabinet.

Section I — Members

A. The members of the men's committee of the Student Association shall be the male members of the Cabinet.

B. The members of the women's committee of the Student Association shall be the women members of the Cabinet.

ARTICLE VI — FACULTY ADVISOR

The director of Proctor Hall and Student Activities shall serve as advisor to the Association and shall attend all meetings of the Cabinet.

ARTICLE VII — RATIFICATION

This Constitution shall become effective after publication in the College newspaper and submission to a vote of the student body.

Section I: A two-thirds vote of the student body and the Student Life Committee shall be necessary to ratify this Constitution.

ARTICLE VIII — AMENDMENTS

Section I: An amendment to this constitution may be proposed by the Cabinet or any member thereof, or submitted to the Cabinet by any student who submits a petition signed by fifty students.

Section II: To become effective such an amendment must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Cabinet and the Student Life Committee, and two-thirds of the voting student body.

By laws shall become effective when passed by two-thirds vote of the Cabinet.

Three One Acts Reviewed, Some Found Praiseworthy

By BETTY ANN COOPER

The student one-acts last Friday evening brought a trio of entertaining and unusual short dramas to the stage of Wright Memorial Theater. The program contained a well-balanced variety of comedy, fantasy, realism, poetry and farce.

The essence of Edna St. Vincent Millay's "Aria da Capo" is the contrast between the "patterned" harlequin-style opening and closing scenes and the realistic center section. Under the direction of Kathleen McKinley '62 and stage manager Carol Clements '63 this contrast was effectively produced.

Particularly striking was the black and white stage setting and the skillful use of a minimum number of simple and convertible props. The dramatic appearance and voice quality of Roger Christian '61 as the uncompromising Cothurnus was an excellent use of both visual and verbal aspects of the theater. Another example of thoughtful stage use was the division of the backstage wall with red and blue lights to symbolize the dramatic developments.

Grace and Lightness

Edward Davis '62 played Pierrot the clown with charming grace and lightness. The high whining voice of Christina Ross '63 tended to become monotonous, but was in keeping with the frivolous and airy character of Columbine.

The repartee of the duo was polished and moved without a hitch. Unfortunately, the off stage re-

To The Editor

Lauderdale

To the Editor:

College students, thirty five thousand of them, flocked to Ft. Lauderdale during Easter vacation. They were there primarily to bask in the sun and sand on the spacious beaches.

Today, while visiting with some adult friends, I heard the side which did not appear in the newspapers. My friends obtained their information from a minister who was in Ft. Lauderdale at the time.

One student did climb up a light pole. This was no offense. He was peacefully visiting with his friends below. Along come the policemen, evidently with chips on their shoulders. And from this minister's report, the policemen started getting rough. The students retaliated, which was, of course only natural.

There are other details given which I shall not repeat, but as I have said, there are two sides to this story. Actually only about one hundred of the students became involved in any misdemeanor. Similar incidents have occurred on occasion in about every college community at various times.

Two Deans Describe How Jr. Advisors Are Chosen

By DEBBIE CREHAN

The success or failure of a college's student government, social and other extracurricular activities and academic standing depends in a large part on how well the freshman class is oriented to college life. The freshman, immersed in an exciting yet sometimes puzzling new world, need and seek advice on college ways. One system, that of Junior Counsellors and Junior Fellows, was established to in part accomplish these ends.

Carefully selected junior women and men live in the respective freshmen dormitories, two per corridor, to help the freshmen in the important adjustment to college life. These juniors are the Junior Counsellors of the women's dormitories, and the Junior Fellows on the men's campus.

Committees and Consultation

The Junior Counsellors are selected by a committee of past and present presidents of leading women's organizations on campus from women of the sophomore class. This committee consults house directors and administration and takes into consideration the results of a poll of sophomore women and sorority recommendations. Ann Thornton '62 as head of the WUA for next year is chairman of this committee which hopes to have selected next year's Junior Counsellors as soon after May 1 as possible. Judith McCann. '61, president of Mortar Board, stressed the following as qualifications for this position: "a mature attitude toward authority, academic stability, dependability, leadership, and a willingness to devote time to the freshmen."

Men's Campus

The method of selection of Junior Fellows differs somewhat from that of their female counterparts. The Men's Undergraduate Association nominates a slate of 50 candidates, each member, representing fraternities and independent men, nominating a certain number. This slate is presented to a selection committee composed of Dean Thomas Reynolds, Ronald Potier Frederic Swift, and the three officers of MUA.

From this list the committee chooses a number of Junior Fellows proportional to the number of entering freshmen men — this year 23 as opposed to the 30 chosen last year. The drop was caused by a cut back in the size of the freshman class. These men choose their own roommates, providing that two members of the same fraternity do not room together, and their rooms are usually the best on each corridor.

Dean Reynolds stressed scholaslows being usually in the top third of their class — and all around leadership and "congeniality" as qualifications of Junior Fellows.

To Orient the Orienters

The Wednesday night of freshman week the Junior Fellows and Junior Counsellors have dinner, followed by an orientation program. On the average 15 freshmen are subdivided between two Junior Fellows or Counsellors each one being directly responsible for eight. These eight have the same faculty advisor who works with the juniors to better advise the freshmen.

Dean Reynolds and Dean Kelly both feel the plan is "working out well."

CRAVEN AT SEMINAR

Last week John Craven, assistant professor of economics, attended the annual seminar of the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston. The purpose of the three day session, April 11-13 was to explain the bank operations, its problems of policy and the state of the economy to some fifty bankers and teachers of money and banking invited from this Federal Reserve district.

During the year each branch of the Federal Reserve Bank gives a seminar similar to the one in Boston. These meetings are attended by a member of both the Board of Governors in Washington, D.C., and the Open Market Trading Desk in New York City.

Other members of the economics department who have attended previous seminars are Professor Karl Anderson, associate professor David Smith and Xavier Verbeck, instructor of economics.

Help Week Starts, Town Will Benefit

The annual fraternity Help Week sponsored by the Interfraternity Council, will take place April 24-29. During these six days each fraternity will work on a separate project concerned with the maintenance and improvement of the Village of Middlebury's public property.

The fraternity which works the greatest number of hours, has the largest per cent of its brotherhood participating, and achieves the best quality of work will win the Help Week Trophy.

The Judging Committee consists of David Smith, professor of economics; Elizabeth Kelly, dean of women; and Ronald Potier, assistant dean of men.

Each fraternity has received a common list of projects and has elected a representative to send to Help Week chairman William Fisher '63 with the fratermity's job choice. In case two fraternities pick the same project Fisher will make the assignments.

The following are Help Week representatives:

Preston L. Talcott '63 and H. Alan Wood '63, Alpha Sigma Psi; Richard Werner '63 and David Arnold '63, Alpha Tau Omega; Steven Crampton '61, Chi Psi; Robert Clarke '63, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Eric Peterson '63, Delta Upsilon; Peter Frame '63, Kappa Delta Rho; Charles Gately '62, Phi Kappa Tau; Spencer Jackson '62, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Christopher Baker '63, Theta Chi. Zeta Psi has not selected a representative yet.

Help Week is designed to improve town-college relations.

FEPC Announces New Proposals For Faculty Vote

The Faculty Educational Policy Committee has submitted two proposals for discussion in the various divisions before a final faculty vote in May.

The FEPC has prepared a new statement for the catalogue concerning the College attitude toward the junior year abroad. At present the statement is open to interpretation.

Claude Bourcier, chairman of the FEPC, said that in addition to presenting a clearer statement of the College position, the proposal provides for a short oral examination by the department upon the student's return.

The second proposal before the faculty is one that would admit a limited number of graduates from technical schools of art and music. This would help these students who upon graduation are not prepared to go directly into the teaching field as they do not have a BA degree. Admitting these students would also be a service to the College as the cultural climate would be helped by having them here, Bourcier said.

The students would be accepted by the same standards as other students, but their work in their specialty departments would probably be sufficiently advanced to permit them to satisfy the department's requirements. Thus they could take a wide variety of courses in their one or two years here.

SORORITY OFFICERS

President of Delta Delta Delta for next year is Jane McKinney '62. Barbara Miller '62 is vice-president. The new recording secretary will be Hope Brown '62. Leonora Urquhart '63 has been elected treasurer.

Sigma Kappa's newly elected president is Cynthia Cooper '62. The first vice-president will be Barbara Buchanan '62. Gail Bonhag '62 has been elected recording secretary. The new treasurer is Janet Myers '63.

Psychology Department

Albert Ewell, chairman of the psychology department, has announced the deletion of one year course and the addition of three other courses.

Principles of Psychological Research (Psych 27.1 and 27.2) will be dropped. The department considers that the material covered in Psychology 27.1 is included in Mathematics 35.1 course.

The second semester of Principles of Psychological Research (Psych 27.2) will be replaced by a new course entitled Psychophysics and the Sensory Processes. The department proposes to "discuss statistical inference and experimental design in the future as they are relevant to psycholical research generally. The student will be introduced to them and will study their uses and rationales in the context of one of the basic content areas of psychology: the sensory processes."

The department will also add a coure entitled Physiological Psychology (Psych 41.1). Ewell made this statement about the course, "Physiological psychology does not concern itself with physiology qua physiology. Rather it concerns itself with the implication of knowledge and research in physiology for the understanding of problems which are uniquely psychological: learning, thinking, perception et. al."

Future Teachers

Lastly the department plans to add a course entitled Measurement of Human Performance (Psych 33.-1.) On section of the Personality course will be dropped so the number of course units in the department remains the same. "In this way," Ewell said, "the new course, Measurement of Human Performance, can be taliored somewhat more to the needs of the Teacher Training students, while still keeping it a valid psychology course. The material in the new course and the Personality course will be supplementary rather than duplicating."

Middlebury Players Elect New Officers

The Middlebury Players held their elections for the coming year last Friday. The new officers are: Anne Bossi '62, president; Phyllis Cole '62, secretary; Charles Canterbury '63, treasurer; Timothy Wawrzeniak '63, program chairman; and Irene Bistol '62, points chairman.

New members of players are: Lois Wagner '61; William Jackson and Susan Tipton, both '62; Celt Grant '63; Duncan Kendall, Cynthia Chase and Rachael True, all '64. The Players selected Robert Higgins, instructor of English, as an honorary member.

Speech Contest Takes Place May 9

The annual Parker-Merrill Speech Contest will take place on May 9 at 7:15 p. m. in Wright Memorial Theater. All sophomores and juniors are eligible to participate in the competition which is a contest in public speaking. The six to eight minute speeches will be judged by local townspeople and members of the faculty.

The Parker Contest, open to juniors, originated in 1809. Awards for this competition consist of a $30 first prize and a $20 second prize. The Merrill Contest, established in 1885, is open to sophomores. The four prizes for this contest range from $15 to $30. William Reger and Robert Coe, both '61 were the top winners last year in this competition. Prize money comes out of funds provided for the contests by an endowment.

The topic on which this year's contestants must base their speeches is "Challenge for Tomorrow." Students wishing information or assistance concerning this contest should contact Fredrick Bowman who is in the charge of the program.

Choir Will Travel To Festival In Burlington

Twice during May, the College Choir will present special performances, the first for the College in Mead Chapel and the second at a festival in Burlington.

The Chapel service on May 7 will consist of several numbers by the choir. Works by Bruckner, DuFay, Josquin, Pachelbel, Poulenc and Ross Lee Finney will be performed.

On May 15 the choir will participate in a Choral Festival in Burlington with several other similar groups. Each participating choir will present two numbers individually, and all the voices will join in five other works.

Prospective Law Students Must Develop Writing Skill

In the future, prospective law students will need to pay more attention to the development of their writing skill and their knowledge of this country's cultural background, according to the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J.

Beginning next November, the Law School Admission Test, now required by 86 of the nation's law schools, will include separate tests of writing ability and general background. This announcement was made today by the executive committee of the Law School Admission Test Policy Committee at the Conference of Western Law Schools, meeting at Stanford University, Palo Alto, California.

The 80-minute writing ability test is designed to measure the student's command of grammar and diction as well as his ability to recognize verbose or unclear writing. It will test his skill in organizing ideas and require him to demonstrate his competence by rewriting and editing prose passages. The main purpose of the test of general background is to measure the student's awareness of the intellectual and cultural context in which the law functions.

The test is designed to indicate the candidate's understanding of important ideas, events and cultural developments of the past and present. It will include 90 questions — 30 in each of the three fields of humanities, science and social science.

In its present form, the Law School Admission Test is administered in a single half-day session and is designed to measure aptitudes closely related to specific aspects of the study of law.

With the addition of the two new tests, the scope of the test will be broadened to include the areas of writing and knowledge of cultural background and it will occupy a full day. Separate scores will be reported on the aptitude test, the writing test, and the test of general background.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:
DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: The best defense is a good offense, unless you're weak or cowardly, in which case a good hiding place is unbeatable.

DEAR DR. FROOD: Every guy I go out with thinks he's Casanova. What should a girl do?
Chased
DEAR CHASED: Ask each one to roll up his sleeve. If there is a small birthmark just above the left elbow, you've got the real Casanova.

DEAR DR. FROOD: A tackle on the football team likes the same girl I do. He says that if I see her any more, he'll mop up the floor with me. I refuse to be intimidated! What should I do?
Ninety-nine Pounder
DEAR NINETY-NINE: You'd better let your hair grow long.

DEAR DR. FROOD: I am a sophomore majoring in architecture. Our college has just completed a magnificent carillon tower. Yesterday, while examining the blueprints, I was horrified to discover that the tower will collapse at 3:30 P.M., June 3, 1964. I have taken my calculations to the dean, to the architects, to the builders, to the president of the college. No one will pay any attention to me. I am desperate. What can I do to avert disaster?
Frantic
DEAR FRANTIC: You've done your best, son. Now, for your own peace of mind, won't you join me in a short trip to Las Vegas to see what kind of odds we can get?

DEAR DR. FROOD: I've been writing poems to a certain girl for about five months. Yesterday I found out that this girl and her friends get together to read my poems and laugh at them. Do you think I should stop writing to her?
Upset
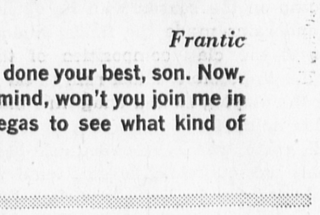
DEAR UPSET: Definitely not. There are all too few humorous poets writing today.



FROOD TO WASHINGTON! Dr. Frood has been called by government officials to unveil his extraordinary "Luckies for Peace Plan." Questioned about this plan, Frood replied: "The details are still classified, but it all started when I discovered that college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. This led me to believe that if all the world's peoples would but lean back and light up a Lucky, they would be too happy to be belligerent."

Tennis Team Fights Poor Conditions; Prospects Good

By SABIN STREETER

The tennis season has suffered with the rest of the campus during the past week due to the horrible Spring weather. The team has been unable to conduct outside workouts, and thus only preliminary matches have been played in an attempt to straighten out the playing order and set up doubles teams. With the first match in a little more than a week, the tennis team, unlike others this Spring, still has time to get organized before the first match.

There still seem to be three fairly distinct groups of players battling equally hard against each other for starting positions on this year's squad. Captain Art Wilkes and steady Corky Allen still seem to be a rung above the other racquetmen on this year's team. From present indications there seems to be a three way battle for the positions in the middle of the team. Pete Askin, the lone veteran of the group, is hoping to hold down the number three position but he will have to fight off two aspirants. Experienced Wally Weld seems to be a sound performer thus far on the indoor handcourts and ROTC John Graham will be in contention once recovered from an injury riddled spring. The last position is really uncertain thus far. Al Scheaf, Bruce Mertens, Tod Freeman, Dave Holmes, and George Pransky are battling for the final birth on the traveling squad. The difference in depth between this year an dpast one is that this position will not go to someone by dewault.

There is an overflow of talent this year, and if the weather improves, this team may compile their first winning season in quite awhile. Under the sterling tutelage of Coach Lockwood Merriman there is a definite note of confidence for the upcoming season despite a very stiff schedule.

CORK'S ALLEY

ONCE AGAIN, the changeable Vermont weather has plagued Middlebury spring sports. The lacrosse team was hoping to get an early jump on the season with its opener last Saturday, but the April snows and rains made the fields muddy and unplayable.

Due to the clay composition of the ground in this area, quick drainage is impossible. Much rain at all just stands as puddles and mud making the playing field a quagmire that takes several days to dry up. This also holds for the playing areas of the other sports. Monday's baseball game was also called off because of a muddy infield and extremely wet outfield. The golf team will have to journey to Rutland or Burlington for its home matches this season until the Middlebury course is dry enough for play. With tennis the situation is ridiculous. There are actually only three courts for a team of twelve to practice and play matches on. The six clay courts are great when they are playable, but they'll stand saturated with water for a couple more weeks. Until then the team will have to play mostly doubles in practice and just three matches at a time during scheduled games. This will double the length of time of home matches. At least three more all-weather courts are badly needed.

IT'S A GOOD THING that the lacrosse team got in the seven practice games during vacation. We're keeping our fingers crossed that the stickmen will be able to open at home this Saturday. All five teams will have contests next week.

Lacrossers Rained Out; Quagmire Halts B-Ball

Middlebury's varsity Lacrosse team, anticipating its first blood of the season, ran into that old New England spring bugaboo, in the form of the spring rainy season. The lacrossers were to have opened their season this past Saturday with a contest on the home field against the Brown University team from Providence, Rhode Island, but on the Thursday before the contest, athletic director Walter "Duke" Nelson declared that the playing area at Porter Field was in such poor condition, because of the accumulation of spring rain and melted snow that, the game would have to be called off.

The encounter with the Brunonians was postponed indefinitely. Both team having two open dates each, it is highly conceivable that they will get together later in the season to make up for this early blunder by the weather.

Aside from the fact that there is a great amount of spring rain accumulation, it is also true that the drainage system at the field is relatively poor, and this does nothing to hasten the possibility that a game might be played there.

In spite of all this, the team will attempt to take on the Engineers from Worcester Polytechnic Institute this coming Saturday in the home opener of the season.

Going into the Junior Weekend contest without the services of promising freshman defenseman Don McLean, and lacking some depth due to the knee injuries of reserves Perry Hanson and Don Yeomans, nevertheless the team is optimistic, and is looking forward to a successful season. The squad is waiting anxiously to test the skills which they displayed so promisingly on that spring trip south earlier in the year, and which we hope they will have displayed against the Wesleyan squad yesterday.

Poor Weather Slows Season

Bad weather and wet grounds upset the plans for Middlebury's opening baseball game Monday. The game with Clarkson scheduled for 3 p. m. at Porter Field, was postponed today.

This revision in the schedule forces the Panther nine to play three games in four days, including an away game Saturday at Norwich against a cadet team that already has several contests under its belt.

The cramped schedule puts a heavy burden on the Panther mound staff since Sabe Streeter, who was slated to pitch Monday and Saturday, will have to pitch on two days rest and perhaps be available for relief duty.

Coach Bobo Sheehan said that although the condition of the field was poor, the team had several good work outs and was shaping up well. He added that baring injuries and academic difficulties the season should be a successful one.

Track Begins Vs. Williams

The Middlebury track team will make its debut at home this Saturday against a strong Williams team. Williams has already chalked up its first victory against MIT by a 35 point margin. Williams will be especially strong in the sprints and hurdles, led by Henrion, weights by Hefnagle, and field events by Judd. Due to the poor weather coach Stub Mackey has had a hard time evaluating his rookie talent. The team's future looks a bit brighter now than it did before spring vacation, but the greatest weaknesses lie in the 440 and 880.

As of now, the events for Middlebury are shaping up as follows; 100 yard dash: Suess, Maine, Sapadin, Lucas. 440 yard dash: Suess, Noyes, Fulton Lucas. 880: Forester. Mile run: Green, Wood Jackson, Woodard. High Hurdles: Bailey, Johnson, Montgomery. Low Hurdles: Penrod, Bailey, Montgomery. High Jump: Crampton, Rubottom, Forester, Sapadin. Broad jump: Noyes, Rubottom, Lucas, Forester. Pole vault: Bry Jones, Warner, Van Winkel. Shot Put: Kullberg, Conn, Foote, Dickie. Discus: Kullberg, Conn, Foote, Geller, McGraw. Javelin : Conn, Geller, Bry Jones, Carpenter; Hammer: Conn.

BUSH LEAGUE

Hello again sports fans. There is little new news to report in the intramural world. Last week bowling was completed with DKE coming out on top with an 8-1 record. Behind them were ATO, KDR, DU, and PKT all with 6-3 records, though the ultimate places were determined by points in the order they are listed above. As for the individual and team records Bob Treverrow was the high average-man with an average of 170. Smith Mowry had the high single game of 229 while KDR took the team awards of high game and high series with a 750 and 1434 respectively. Some of the better bowlers in the league were Dave Ledlie of ATO, Mike Posefsky and Greg Hewlett of DKE, Jack MacKewan of KDR, Treverrow and Chatfield of DU, Shumann of PKT, and Hershfield of Zete.

In the decathlon Gene Sapadin is headed to become the 1961 Decathlon champ. He has individually won the hurdles, high jump, and dash, and placed in a few others. Steve Crampton is entrenched in second place due to steady performances in all events. Steve Greene is in third place having won the 880 and the mile, the latter breaking a record for the Middlebury decathlon, as he ran the mile in 4:37.6.

Other winners included Pete Kullberg in the shot and Jeff Foote in the discus.

In the bridge tournament the PKT team of Stone and Pappalardo took the laurels, beating out the pairs from the nine other houses as well as those representing Atwater and the Faculty. ASP's team of Woolven and Cusimano placed second. I had meant to be ready with predictions for the up and coming softball league but thus far, due to the elements, I have been unable to see many of the boys practicing. Next week then, without fail, I will make my forecast. Till then this is Stubes signing off.

LACROSSE

Lacrosse, a sport which was almost dropped from the Middlebury athletic repertoire a few years ago, is now being revived at Middlebury with great enthusiam. Kept alive at that time only by "Duke" Nelson's consent to coach both it and the golf teams, the sport has been given a fresh and spirited boost under the guidance of full-time mentor JoJseph Morrone. This season is Morrone's third at the helm and it promises to be his best.

"Now, stop that! Stop that RIGHT NOW!" said Mrs. Brooker to four college girls who were shrieking and running 'round and 'round the big table of sale books at The Vermont Book Shop. "STOP!" Mrs. Brooker is a very good natured person, but now was losing her temper. "Why are you running around here anyway?"

The girls slowed down and finally stopped. One girl panted, "Your ad in The Campus last week said to circle the books and records we wanted, and we want all those there on the table. I guess we've circled them enough now, though. I especially wanted that set of four records of Cyril Ritchard reading 'Alice in Wonderland' and you ran out of it the first day last week. Is it really a $25.00 set that you're selling for $6.95?"

"Indeed it is!" replied Mrs. Brooker, very much mollified now. "We sold out of many of our specials the first two days of the sale, but Mr. Blair got on the 'phone and on the typewriter and has rounded up more of almost everything. That 'History of Classic Jazz' set of five records was another that went very quickly. It too was $25.00 but we are selling it for $9.95 — that's less than $2.00 per record."

Mr. Murray, another member of the team that makes The Vermont Book Shop such a pleasant place to shop, spoke up. "Other records that sold well have been the Vivaldi 'Four Seasons' and Cynthia Gooding's 'Languages of Love' at only $1.98 each. And all of the classical $1.98 records. We're getting more of them, so don't be discouraged."

A doleful looking beagle came in, leading a boy who wore dark glasses and was tapping a white cane before him. "Where's Mr. Blair?" the boy asked. "I wanted to show him I went blind reading the fine print in the ads last week."

"Mr. Blair is downstairs dreaming up new ways to serve his beloved customers," Mr. Murray answered briskly.

"Oh. That means he's taking a nap but you aren't allowed to say so. I know. Well, I wanted two copies of 'The Complete Etchings of Goya' at $3.95 for gifts, but I heard that you sold them all the first day. And that 'Book of the Outdoors' with the terrific color photos is certainly a bargain — — a $12.50 book for $2.98. Will you have more?"

Mrs. Brooker and Mr. Murray chanted in unison: "We're getting more of almost everything: 'Masterpieces of Figure Painting ($22.50, now $9.95), 'American Painting' ($12.50, now $5.95), 'Treasury of Waterfowl' ($12.50, now $3.95) and dozens more. Keep checking with us!"

WUA Aids Korean Child With Gifts and Letters

Yoo-Wan-Yung is a 15 year old Korean boy. His father is dead. His mother works to try to support both of them, but without financial aid it is virtually impossible for her to do so.

Yoo-Wan-Yung goes to school and attends church regularly. He has one great ambition: to be an artist. His "cherished dream" is "to go to France which is the capitol of arts." But right now he and his mother need extra funds for clothes, food, books and school tuition. Whenever there is a little money left over, Yoo-Wan-Yung can buy a few artists' supplies with which to work.

This year the Women's Undergraduate Association is sponsoring Yoo-Wan-Yung. Each month they send him a letter, and every semester they send him and his mother 90 dollars. They occasionally send clothing, too.

With their aid this young boy has a chance to further his education.

marks of both Davis and Miss Ross were usually inaudible, so the point of their light patter punctuating the more serious play within a play was often lost.

This center section presented provoking ideas about the nature of man and society. Peter Meyer '64 and Peter Shumway '62 as the shepherds in whom greed, originating as a game but soon assuming serious proportions, led to distrust and division, gave their roles a competent, if not spectacular, interpretation.

Upon the return of Columbine and Pierrot the resumption of life's fantasies was well portrayed. The point, however, was perhaps overemphasized by the excessive speed of the closing lines, leaving the play on a note too comic for the deeper thoughts of Miss Millay.

T. S. Eliot's "Sweeney Agonistes" is a difficult work and the cast of this second play, under the direction of Jane Volland '62 are to be congratulated on their courage. Judy Randalls '63 in the role of Doris presented a clear portrayal of a girl who does not understand the realities of life and does not want to.

The other roles came through with less life and clarity. Janet MacLaughlin '63 was overly "stale" as Dusty; the three male visitors — Charles Feldman '61, Charles Gibbons '64, and John Simson '62 — seemed to be reciting awkward poetry not dramatic lines. The minstrels of the second half of the play, Peter Ballou '64 and Noel Kane '63, sang in a stilted fashion in keeping with Eliot's view of the era he was describing.

Much of the "dead quality" of the play can be attributed to this viewpoint of the author. It is a far from exciting view.

In some areas, however, Eliot was certainly not at fault. Matthew Shipman's slouched, vacilating Sweeney lacked any vigour to match the spark of his opponent Miss Randalls to a degree beyond Eliot's conception of his hero who had grasped the basic realities of life-birth, copulation and death.

The staging of "Sweeney Agonistes" was amateurish. At one place in the second half the characters had to stumble over one another to come into view. The first scene was irritatingly dim.

Noel Coward's "Red Peppers" was welcome relief after the wasteland atmosphere of the preceding play. "Red Peppers" made no pretensions to seriousness; it was pure fun through and through, from the coquettish card — carrier Elise Hamilton '64 to Lily Pepper's (Deborah Bigelow '63) closing assault on the uncooperative musical director.

Miss Bigelow and Samuel Berman '61 who also directed the play, displayed the competence of a true vaudeville team as well as comic-dramatic ability. Helen Geyh '63 played the farcical role of Mabel Grace delightfully. Mention should also be made of the comic skill of Bert Weaver '63, and the amusing musicians Anne Linden and Charles Hadenfeldt, both '63.
